BRITISH WARSHIP BULWARK BLOWN UP AT SHEERNESS

Explosion Thought to Have Been From Interior of the Vessel

700 TO 800 LIVES LOST

Houses Shaken for Miles by the Blast; Sea Strewn
With Wreckage

SHEERNESS, England (via London), Nov. 26.—The British battleship, Bulwark, was destroyed by a terrific explosion at Sheerness, here this morning. There are only 14 survivors from the crew of 700 or 800 men who were aboard. The explosion is believed to have occurred in her forward magazine. Whether it was caused by accident or design is a question to be determined by the commission which has been appointed to investigate.

In the opinion of naval men it was an internal explosion that put an end to the battleship which for 12 years had done service at home and abroad and lately had been doing her part in guarding England's shores. There was no great upheaval of water such as would have occurred if she had been torpedoed or struck by a mine.

Indeed, the ship was enveloped in smoke and flame and when this had cleared nothing could be seen but wreckage floating on the water.

Considerable damage to the navy great Britain has been sustained by the disaster of this character. The battleship, which was the French warship, was destroyed by an internal explosion in 1907, and the British ships and carefully examined. The explosion was caused in the ships to keep the power cool.

The Bulwark, which was one of the older battleships, cost $1,000,000.

Tells of Disaster
LONDON, Nov. 26.—An eyewitness who was on a ship at Sheerness from the British battleship said: "I was at breakfast at about 10 o'clock when I heard a tremendous explosion. It was the first impression was that the report was the firing of a salute by one of the ships, but the noise was quite exceptional."

When I got on deck I saw something awful had happened. The water and the sky were obscured by dense volumes of smoke. We were ordered at once to the scene of the disaster to see what assistance we could. At first we could see nothing but when the smoke cleared we were horrified to find that the battleship Bulwark had gone. She seemed to have entirely vanished from sight but a little later we detected a portion of the battleship showing about four feet above the water."

THANKSGIVING DAY FOOTBALL GAME ENDS IN TIE, 7-7, BETWEEN TIGERS AND MINES

Gridiron's Blue Ribbon Event Gives Gallant Golden Eleven Highest Conference Honors

By T. W. ROSS

In the face of what appeared to be certain defeat and with but 10 minutes to play, the football team from the Colorado School of Mines yesterday afternoon gave a demonstration of their famous "comeback" spirit and, against all odds, scored the touchdown that tied the score and made them undisputed champions of the Rocky Mountain conference. The Mines went through the season without losing a game and although they had several narrow escapes, none of them detracted from the prowess of the mighty eleven from Golden.

There have been more spectacular games on Washington field, but never a better-matched eleven. Each side tried its wits by sheer power and skill in played significant football. Four thousand people crowded Washington field for the blue-ribbon event and perfect weather added to the pleasure of the afternoon's sport.

Both Touchdowns Similar.

Each touchdown was made by similar tactics. The eleven from Golden, after a long drive, broke through the Mines' line and scored by a touchdown. The Mines' eleven, in turn, broke through the Golden line and scored by a touchdown.

AMERICAS WOULD BAR WARSHIPS OF BELLIGERENTS

South American Countries Subject to Plans to the United States Government

700 TO 800 LIVES LOST

Would Establish Stricter Observance of International Laws of Neutrality

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The United States government has been asked by the principal nations of South America to prohibit them in negotiations with the belligerent powers of Europe to permit the use of the waters of the two Americas and safeguard the trade of Pan-American countries with each other.

Argentina, Chile, Peru and Uruguay have had their suggestions before the Washington government while the Brazilian government is considering the advisability of taking a similar step. Practically all the Central and South American countries have been organized by some of the principal nations resulting in a series of diplomatic conferences in Washington and the capitals of South America which are now in progress.

While the proposals are different in character in scope they all seek the same end, the restoration of trade between South and North America paralyzed by the European war. The movement also has for its object the removal of possible causes of serious friction between the countries of this hemisphere and the European belligerents on questions of neutrality.

Already Chile, Ecuador and Colombia have had serious difficulties with the belligerents over the use of the wireless and the coming of foreign warships, whose presence in the Atlantic and Pacific is growing obnoxious to South American countries.

None of the nations that have made suggestions is committed to any particular plan but will seek the cooperation of the United States. The proposals that will make any plan effective is recognized by the diplomats of South America as well as President Wilson.

Plans Submitted to U. S.
The various plans thus far formally communicated to the United States are as follows:

1. The establishment of a central zone on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of North and South America within which no belligerent ships are allowed to pass and no commerce with the belligerents is permitted.

2. The prohibition of a general embargo of diplomatic representation and commercial delegation of all the countries of this hemisphere with powers to vote on matters which can be taken to protect and restore Pan-American trade.

3. The prohibition of the Pan-American union of a commission to recommend steps that would remove dangers to Pan-American trade.

4. Prohibition by all nations of the two Americas of the privilege heretofore exercised by the belligerents of using neutral ports as the base of operations for the transport of coal to enable a belligerent vessel to reach the nearest port of another country.

CROKER "CHIEF" TO INDIAN BRIDE

"I HAVE WON CHIEF OF MEN," SHE SAYS

Ex-Tammany Leader Weds
Girl 50 Years His Junior in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Richard W. Croker, Tammany leader, today wedded Helen Edmondson, a member of the Cherokee Indian tribe who is 50 years his junior. He is 77 years old and she is 27. Tonight the bride and groom are on their way to the Croker estate near Palm Beach, Fla., for their honeymoon.

The wedding took place at the home of Nathan Strauss, an old friend of Croker's, and only about 25 guests witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was given away by her uncle, W. W. Hastings, who for 10 years has been attorney for the Cherokees and who recently was elected to congress from Oklahoma.

The bride's maid was Miss Frances Pitt, a sister of the groom's, who comes from Muskogee, Okla. Miss Ethel Brown of Dayton, O., and Miss Willie Townsend of Memphis, Tenn., also were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom is a member of the St. James church, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Smith, who has been secretary of Tammany hall for years.

A typewritten statement given out by the bride after the ceremony made clear a good deal of her life history, which has been reported in many different ways since knowledge of her engagement became known.

She is proud of her Indian ancestry and the Cherokees are proud of her, as a college girl, lecturer, ranch owner and business woman, the statement said.

Inspired by Pocahontas
Croker first saw the girl who today became his bride, in Kansas City when she was a young girl according to the statement, and he later became interested in her zeal to better her people. Miss Edmondson found inspiration for her work from Pocahontas and other Indian girls, she said. She told it thus:

"I have been inspired by the example of Pocahontas who did so much to make the English people understand our race. Then there was Sacagawea, the Indian woman, who piloted the Lewis and Clark expedition 5,000 miles and made it a success. On the way back in crossing the Missouri her husband a renegade Frenchman upset the canoe, carrying the records of the expedition. She saved them and again she saved all the valuable papers and trophies. I have found inspiration in Pocahontas, the Cherokee maiden who helped Sam Houston to free Texas."

And then she turned to Croker who long was known as the "chief" of Tammany hall, and remarked:

"But it is the dearest ambition of every Indian girl to win a chief, and I have won the chief of men."

In April the couple will go to the bride's home in Ireland.

AMERICANS ENJOY FEAST DAY WHILE BELGIANS STARVE

3,000 Tons of Food a Day
Required to Feed the 7,000,000 People

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving day found 7,000,000 starving Belgians in war-torn Belgium crying out for bread and only half enough food on hand to appease their hunger.

Three thousand tons of food are required each day to feed the suffering, yet to date the United States, upon which the Belgians most depend for food, has not sustained a large enough stockpile to feed that amount for more than a day.

The work of the organization, a committee, is to get the American commission for the relief of Belgium, a body of the small amount of food shipped to each inhabitant of the stricken land.

A cable from H. C. Howser, chairman of the Little Belgium commission, stated that the situation is desperate and urgent action is imperative. He said the commission was chartering several ships for food to the Atlantic seaboard, trusting that Americans would fill them with supplies.

Middle States Leading
The middle states are leading in contributions, the commission says. President Edmund James of the University of Illinois has started a movement to raise $500,000. Each of the 99 counties in Iowa soon will contribute a second carload of flour. Kentucky is giving freely in example of its charity, having shipped two other days when J. S. Billington, a blind and aimless soldier, 37 years old of Mayfield, contributed 50 cents, and in Kansas 10,000 active workers have been organized to work for the cause in just 10 days.

A shipload of food will start next week from California and another is being loaded in the state of Washington. Salt Lake City has given 50 tons of foodstuffs, which will be sent by way of the west coast.

The south, even though it suffered from the war in helping Alabama, will send a shipload of provisions from Mobile about December 15. Flour will be sent in cotton sacks and when the sacks are empty they can be turned into clothing. Virginia is preparing a cargo of 5,000 tons for January shipment.

New York Poor Fed.
NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Charity struck the keynote of New York's Thanksgiving celebration today. Despite all the relief measures that are being taken for Europe, Belgium and others abroad who are suffering from the European war the city cared well on this day at least for the temporary wants of its own needy thousands of whom are this year in the class requiring charity because of unemployment but, nevertheless, of the great struggle going on in the world.

Free dinners in which turkey figured with its customary prominence, were provided at the tables of many charitable organizations. The Salvation army fed more than 7,000 persons, the St. Andrews coffee stands supplied 2,000 with free dinners and sent 600 baskets of supplies to as many needy homes. Thousands of others were fed by various societies and homes. Food was served to 2,000 at the city's expense at the municipal looking house.

Glad to Be Locked Up
CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The county and the house of correction and other houses of detention were crowded with prisoners today, many of whom were thankful for being locked up.

Turkey dinners were served at all of the public institutions from the house of correction with 2,300 prisoners, to the county jail with 700 down to the city's police station.

Andrew Weberbauer, Jr., 19 years old and the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Andrew Weberbauer of 705 Lincoln avenue, Colorado City, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon in a fight with several drunken Mexicans at the Colorado Midland station in Colorado City. He was shot through the left lung and is in a critical condition at St. Francis hospital. His assailant was a Mexican, Jesus Cruz, who the police did not locate until an early hour this morning.

WATERS STILL UNCONSCIOUS

LITTLE HOPE NOW FOR HIS RECOVERY

J. T. Lendrum Conscious at Times, but Condition Is Still Serious

Miss H. Waters, president of the Chicago & Erie creek railroad, who was seriously injured Wednesday afternoon in a collision between a light car and a freight car, has not recovered consciousness since the accident and is in a critical condition.

Her condition is reported from St. Francis hospital early this morning. The condition of J. T. Lendrum, chairman of the road, who was injured at the same time, is more satisfactory and hopes are entertained for his recovery. He is, as usual, at times Attorney R. S. Hylan sustained a broken shoulder and a sprained knee. His condition is not considered serious although he is suffering intensely.

A X-ray examination showed that the skull of both Mr. Waters and Mr. Lendrum were fractured. Operations were performed at once to relieve the pressure. Slight hope is entertained for the recovery of Mr. Waters on account of his weakened condition. Mr. Lendrum is a powerful man, and in excellent health and it is thought he will recover.

Harry Waters, the president's only son, who is a student at Chicago university, will arrive in Colorado Springs this morning. He will be the only member of the family in the city. Mr. Waters underwent an operation in Los Angeles recently and is still unable to travel. Her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Holder, is with her.

Mr. Waters is the last member of his father's family with the exception of an uncle living in Maryland and a sister at Parsons, Kan., where he also received his early education. He was in the employ of the Adams Express company in Chicago, and in 1888 came to Colorado as agent for the company at Aspen.

GERMANS, SURROUNDED IN POLAND, MAKE DESPERATE EFFORT TO CUT WAY OUT

Russians Are Conducting Great Flanking Movement Along the Entire Battle Front

Crown Prince Fails to Advance on Cracow-Czestochowa Line, Thus Repeating Blunder at Gates of Paris; Fighting in the West Still Is at Standstill; Germans Preparing to Renew Siege

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Russian general staff still is withholding the details of the victory which on other dispatches from Petrograd say the Russians have won over the German forces which penetrated Poland. Tonight's official report simply says the battle continues to develop to the advantage of the Russians, and that the Germans are trying to extricate themselves from a position very unfavorable to them. The Germans, on the other hand, claim they have inflicted heavy losses on the Russians between Lodz and Lowicz.

The military authorities in Petrograd, assuming that the unofficial reports of a victory are true, express astonishment that the Germans should have attacked Lodz, for they say defeat there was inevitable. The Germans who advanced from the north and south, these military observers add, doubtless intend to seize the railway between Skienowice and Piotrkow and interrupt communication between the northern and southern Russian armies, but that Grand Duke Nicholas, with the enormous number of men at his command, was able to sandwich them in and direct his attacks from all points except due west. The reported failure of the German crown prince's army to advance on the Cracow-Czestochowa front is considered by these military critics as contributing to the checking of the Germans.

GERMANS MAKING GREAT EFFORT TO CUT WAY OUT

It is said in Petrograd that one of the two German corps are almost completely encircled and that they are making a desperate effort to fight their way out to the north. Already a large number of prisoners are reported to have passed through Warsaw. This is considered in London to confirm the unofficial reports and the statement of Lord Kitchener in the house of lords today that the reinforced Russian troops in this neighborhood have been able to check and defeat the Germans with a heavy loss of men and material. The Russian losses, however, are not considered to be a matter of time when they must surrender or be annihilated.

The magnificent marching power of the Russian troops is a feature, it is properly reckoned with by the Germans. Some two regiments have been in the fighting line, always on the alert, for 30 days, some twelve and a half taken in that time in strongly fortified positions and have covered over difficult roads more than 500 miles.

The Russians are now pushing through the forests of the Carpathians at Bukovina. The capture of these passes is important to a command of the passes of Bukovina to Budapest.

BATTLE IN WEST STILL
ALMOST AT STANDSTILL

Except for artillery fighting, the battle in the west remains virtually at a standstill, although in isolated attacks both sides claim to have made some progress. There is no indication where the next German blow is to be struck in the attempt to reach the French coast.

Lord Kitchener in the house of lords today declared that all the gains in the British army, which for a long time had fought against great odds, had been filled and that both British and French reinforcements had reached the front. While Lord Kitchener expressed confidence in the result of the war and asserted that 30,000 recruits were joining the British army each week, he warned the public that still more men would be required.

The secretary of war added that an Indian force was in touch with the Turks 30 miles to the east of the Suez canal, while Indian and British troops were busy on the shores of the Persian gulf and throughout Africa. He said the Indian government had announced its intention to continue to support the Indian contingents fighting in France and elsewhere.

THREE GREAT RUSSIAN ARMIES BATTLE GERMANS

LONDON, Nov. 27 (Friday).—The Petrograd correspondent of the Times sums up the present situation in Russian Poland as follows:

"One group of the Russian forces, the Austro-German army on the Czestochowa-Cracow front, including heavy losses and capturing guns and prisoners. Apparently another group of Russians are holding at Wielun a German column which is endeavoring to reach the city of the Black group."

"The most serious situation is in the west, where the German army is making a desperate effort to fight their way out to the north. Already a large number of prisoners are reported to have passed through Warsaw. This is considered in London to confirm the unofficial reports and the statement of Lord Kitchener in the house of lords today that the reinforced Russian troops in this neighborhood have been able to check and defeat the Germans with a heavy loss of men and material. The Russian losses, however, are not considered to be a matter of time when they must surrender or be annihilated."

There was a heavy fall of snow again Wednesday in Alsace. It was accompanied by a cold north wind and caused much suffering to the soldiers on both sides.

Breslau Fears Russian Raid; People Fleeing

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 26.—Seven thousand refugees, mostly members of wealthy German families in Breslau, have arrived in Munich during the last 48 hours. They declare that the city is in a state of consternation owing to the reported approach of the Russians and that business is at a standstill.

In the districts of Baden, the survivors of the years 1891-1894, now mostly men, are to be seen. These men have been distributed in the forests along the Rhine to liberate the younger men there for active service.

Germany continues to send naval and military officers to Constantinople. Twenty-eight of them passed through Innsbruck yesterday, coming from Munich.

There was a heavy fall of snow again Wednesday in Alsace. It was accompanied by a cold north wind and caused much suffering to the soldiers on both sides.

PRES. WILSON QUALIFIES AS MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

Spends Quiet Thanksgiving Day in Little Massachusetts Village With Daughter

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 26.—President Wilson qualified as a mountain climber here this afternoon. With Francis B. Sayre, his son-in-law, and Professor Stockton Axson, his brother-in-law, he went up Petersburg mountain from the summit of which he could look into New York and Vermont.

The first part of the trip was made in a carriage and the remainder on foot. High up on the journey the president passed John Donoghue, a mountain farmer, who gazed at him with amazement.

"You certainly do look like the president," he remarked.

On his return Mr. Wilson, which refreshed by his climb, sat in front of an open fire and read poetry to his relatives until the family dined.

At the services in St. John's Episcopal church this morning, President Wilson presided. He listened to prayers for peace in Europe and continued properly in the United States. In his sermon the president, Rev. J. F. Carter, referred to Mr. Wilson's death. The president's Thanksgiving proclamation was read by President Harry Gardner of Williamstown.

Mr. Wilson walked to church accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sayre and Mr. Axson. Afterward the congregation stood while the presidential party walked out.

Miss Black is back at the White House today.

BOY STONES LIONESS: DEVoured BY BEAST

RENO, Nev., Nov. 26.—A report received here today from Shingon, Lyon county, describes the death of a Shoshone Indian boy who was devoured by a lioness in the hills near that town.

The Mack, a Pure Indian, who brought in the story, said two Shoshone children wandered in the hills and, seeing a lioness and cubs, stayed the cubs in ignorance of the danger. The lioness pounced on and killed one boy.

Submarine Destroyer to Be New Engine of Destruction

New Type of Dual Under-Water and Surface Craft Being Constructed; United States Will Have Similar Ships; Electricity to Propel Battleships

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Out of the newly-bought lessons of naval warfare in the North Sea, a new engine of destruction is coming—the submarine destroyer. Larger, more powerful, and with a greater radius of operation than any of its predecessors, this new weapon of the sea will not only be equipped to sting its giant adversaries but to destroy its own kind on the surface of the sea.

British and French navy yards, and private shipyards as well, are working night and day to have the new submarine destroyers in service within the next few months. This information coming to United States naval officers commands greater interest because the United States navy, too, is to have some of these newest ships of war. Its experts have been at work upon plans for them for months.

The theory in which the new sea-fighters are being built is that they shall be armed for battle either on the surface or below. They will be of much greater tonnage than existing submarines. Tentative plans have been made for boats of 1,600 tons, submerged, which would permit fuel capacity to cross oceans with battle fleets and allow adequate provision for crew quarters. The close attendance of a parent ship upon submarine fleets would then be unnecessary.

Will Be Versatile Craft.

The underwater armament will consist of torpedo tubes as in present submarines, but more tubes and a greater supply of the projectiles employed with such terrible effect in the European war. For surface fighting against hostile submarines they will carry small guns, mounted in water-tight compartments and placed on elevators to lift them to the upper deck of the ship as she rides a foot or two out of the water. A quick-firing six-pounder probably will be the largest weapon that can be employed for set high above the vessel's center of gravity, would tend to render her top-heavy.

Beneath the surface, the new destroyers would operate as ordinary 200-ton vessels of their type, except that they would have greater cruising range. On the surface they would scout for hostile submarines, spotting an enemy's periscope, then sinking upon the six-pounder to open fire, relying on greater speed to keep in range and upon the fact that six-pounder projectiles would easily pierce the thin skin of the hostile craft. One such would cripple an enemy, even if no vital part of his mechanism were struck. The puncture would sink him if he attempted to submerge, and so he would be compelled to lie on the surface at the mercy of the destroyer's guns.

U. S. Type Similar.

The equipment of the new British fighters is understood to be similar to that contemplated for American craft. Diesel engine oil engines driving the propellers for surface cruising and operating dynamo which keep storage batteries constantly at standard strength for underwater work when the ship is driven by electricity. The German engine, now to be employed against its inventors, offers the highest fuel economy in power generation yet achieved and on its small fuel consumption depends the greatly increased cruising radius of the new ships.

American naval engineers are considering the application of diesel engines to warships in another connection also. "The result may be the complete revolution of the power equipment of the coming superdreadnoughts." Experiments have been made successfully with the new oil engine Junior, in getting greater efficiency out of steam-turbines, by using them to drive dynamo and using electricity thus generated to propel the ship. The theory is that by operating the turbines at higher speed than is possible in applying their power directly to the propellers, added power is generated per unit of weight, which more than offsets losses through changing steam power into electrical energy.

Electrically Propelled.

When the plans for the great battleships provided in this year's estimate were sent out to bidders, the New York navy yard submitted proposals for one ship to be driven by electricity, and the navy general board has the project under consideration. It is not necessary for a decision to be reached for a year. It is said, as it will take that time to construct the hulls up to the point where installation of engines will be decided on.

In the meantime the board has before it a new proposal, which contemplates the substitution of Diesel engines for steam turbines to drive the electric generators. That, it is said, would virtually double the cruising radius of the ship per gallon of fuel oil carried. The board is giving it serious consideration although no announcement of what experiments and tests have been undertaken has been made.

TEUTON ALLIES ARE FIGHTING TOGETHER TO GOOD ADVANTAGE

BERLIN, Nov. 26 (by wireless to London).—The Austrian report that ground has been gained in the district about Wolbronn (southern Russian Poland) taken in conjunction with the German report from Zvenetochowa and the region north of Cracow, shows that they are working together on the south wing to very good purpose, says a semi-official statement today.

Wolbronn is in a mountainous region but successes have been gained despite the great difficulties. "In the eastern theater of war the weather generally is clear but frosty, the temperature averaging 10 degrees centigrade below zero. At Cracow fog alternates with snow."

In Flanders the rain continues and the temperature is near the freezing point. A low temperature prevails in the Lorraine plateau. In the Vosges the crests of the mountains are covered with about six inches of snow."

Kurds Defeat Russians.

BERLIN, Nov. 26 (by wireless to Bayville).—Information given out to the press today by the official press bureau includes the following: "The Persian legation at Constantinople has received information from Tehran that Kurdish troops surprised a Russian garrison and killed 2,000 of them."

A great mass meeting was held in Sofia to demand the immediate occupation of Macedonia by the Bulgarian army.

M. Wolkow, president of the committee for the improvement of economic conditions in Russia, states that bankruptcy is epidemic in that country. Reports of a pan-Islamic anti-British movement are confirmed by the Russian state of Petrograd, which states that the movement had its beginning in Afghanistan. The Porte states that all Arabs who are fit for military service have declared their readiness for a holy war."

MIDNIGHT FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF ABOUT $1,200

Spontaneous combustion, thought to have been caused by oil rags, caused a fire at the Wood residence, 631 North Nevada avenue, shortly after midnight. The loss is estimated at $1,200. The building is a two-story frame structure and was empty. The blaze started in the rear of the house and worked its way along the passages and up the stairs. It was extinguished by means of chemicals, two 40-gallon tanks on engines No. 1 and 2 being used. The fire was well started when the department was notified.

The fire was not due to electric wiring, according to Chief McCarty, who made a thorough investigation. Eight men have been working at the house and it is thought the blaze started from oily rags, several of which were found.

GERMAN ARMY IN TRENCHES IS VERY HUMAN INSTITUTION

Iron Spirit of Barracks Has Given Way to More Democratic Spirit

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The German army is a very human institution just now. The iron discipline of the barracks and the caste spirit which divides the officer from the rank and file are not so much in evidence.

In one of the better restaurants of Berlin sat two officers of the line. The worn look of the field-gray uniforms of one showed that he had seen service. That the other had been at the front was made clear by a bandage over his head.

Following an animated recital, the officer in the worn uniform picked up a bundle which had lain beside him on the table and proceeded to unwrap six mouth organs.

"You see," he said to his convalescent companion, "life in the trenches—and there will be much of it, I fear—is rather slow. There are several men in my company who can play these things, and I am taking these back to them. A little music helps them pass the time and keeps them in good humor."

Divided With Captain.

"I gave my captain five boiled potatoes and the half of a salt herring the other day, and the told me he appreciated it," said a private when asked to explain to what extent life in the barracks resembled life on the firing line.

To the remark that hunger comes to all men, regardless of station in life, the private commented: "That is so, of course. But the officer did not have to thank me for it." It would have served no purpose to argue this point with the man, so another question was asked.

"This is the time when everybody must do his duty," replied the man, and then added slowly and with emphasis, "and that duty right now seems to be the same for all alike—everybody within his place, of course. The officer is as likely to be shot as we are, and sometimes more so, and that, I believe, even things up considerably."

"A sort of democracy of death," suggested the interviewer.

But this word "democracy" is in German principally associated with the "Social Democrats"—the German Socialist party. For that reason the private had nothing more to say.

Duty to Be Silent.

It is as difficult to interview a German private as it is to get information from one of the few officers who inhabit the large, rambling general staff building across Reichstag building. It seems to be as much the duty of the soldier to be silent as to fight.

There is no doubt that the German army in the field is a more liberal institution than the German army in the barracks. One reads almost daily of men carrying their officers to the dressing station behind the trench or firing line and of officers who, after the fighting is over, make frantic effort to succor their wounded men. Letters which speak of officers dividing their parcels from home with their men have ceased to be a novelty.

On the whole, it is a rare thing for a German private to get the iron roars of the second and first classes, together. So far there are three cases: Infantist Mauer Riller of Querfurt reserve, Corporal Carl Frank of Sinsheim, and Infantryman Henry Mueller of Gersheimünde, the latter also earning promotion to sergeant.

Mueller serves with a machine-gun section. In a recent engagement the crew of the section was shot down. Mueller alone escaping. Instead of seeking cover, Mueller carried his wounded corporal into a safe place behind the firing line, and then returned to the machine gun, which he began to work with such efficiency that within a few moments he had killed and wounded nearly all the men in two of the enemy's trenches.

TURKS FIRED ON LAUNCH TO KEEP IT FROM MINES

Ottoman War Minister Explains Incident to Ambassador Morgenthau

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The launch from the American cruiser Tennessee, which attempted to enter the closed harbor of Smyrna, was signaled that she was approaching a mine field before shots were fired as a warning to the little craft, according to the explanation of the Turkish minister of war to American Ambassador Morgenthau. This was announced by Secretary Bryan tonight.

Mr. Bryan said he had received from Mr. Morgenthau a note addressed to the latter by the Turkish minister of war recording a previous conversation with reference to the Tennessee incident.

"The note," said Mr. Bryan, "contains the statement from government officials that the shots were fired after a signal had been given to prevent the launch from approaching mines and that they were not fired in the direction of the launch."

Mr. Bryan said he could not tell from the message whether the Turkish minister of war made the formal explanation in response to the representations which Mr. Morgenthau was instructed to make, but he believed further dispatches would clarify this point.

JOSEPH SMITH ILL AT HOME IN MISSOURI

LAMONI, Ill., Nov. 26.—Joseph Smith, president of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, and son of Joseph S. Smith, founder of the Mormon church, is reported ill at his home in Independence, Mo., and his children, who live here, have been called to his bedside.

Mr. Smith was born in Kirtland, O., in 1832, and educated at Nauvoo, Ill. When the main body of the Mormons migrated to Utah, he remained with the family of his mother, Mrs. Emma Hale Smith.

He was opposed to polygamy, and in 1890 became president of the reorganized church, which did not affiliate with the Utah church. He was editor of the Saints Herald, the organ of his denomination.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON ATTENDS SERVICES AT ST. PATRICKS CATHEDRAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Members of the cabinet, diplomatic corps, the supreme court and other prominent figures in official life gathered today at St. Patrick's church for the annual Pan-American Thanksgiving celebration. President Wilson was in Williamstown, Mass., spending the day with his daughter, Mrs. F. R. Sayre, and it was the first time since the Pan-American celebration was organized several years ago that the president of the United States has not attended.

The diplomatic representatives in brilliant uniforms, assembled with other dignitaries and marched into the church in a solemn but colorful procession where mass was said in celebration of peace and Thanksgiving among the Americans.

President Wilson was represented at the celebration by his secretary, Mr. Timothy L. Cardinal Gibbons, Monsignor Bonzano, the papal delegate, and other Catholic clergymen assisted at the mass, which was celebrated by the Rev. Michael J. Flanagan. The Thanksgiving sermon was preached by the Rev. John Cavanaugh, president of

Spends Quiet Thanksgiving Day in Little Massachusetts Village With Daughter

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 26.—President Wilson qualified as a mountain climber here this afternoon. With Francis B. Sayre, his son-in-law, and Professor Stockton Xson, his brother-in-law, he went on a strenuous mountain climb from the summit of which he could look into New York and Vermont.

The first part of the trip was made in a carriage and the remainder on foot. High in the journey the president passed John D. Rockefeller, a mountain farmer, who gazed at him curiously and remarked:

"You certainly do look like the president."

On his return Mr. Wilson, much refreshed by his climb, sat in front of an open fire and read poetry to his relatives until the family dined.

At the services in St. John's Episcopal church this morning he listened to prayers for peace in Europe and congratulated the troops. Mr. Wilson walked to church accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sayre and Dr. Grayson. Afterward the presidential party walked home.

Mrs. Dorek is back at the White House today.

BOY STONES LIONESS: DEVoured BY BEAST

IRVING, N.Y., Nov. 26.—A report received here today from Simpson, Laramie county, describes the death of a Shoshone Indian boy who was devoured by a lioness in the hills near that town. "The Attack," a Shoshone Indian who brought in the story, said two Shoshone children wandered in the hills and, seeking a lioness and cubs, entered the lioness's lair. The lioness, however, pounced on and killed one boy.

Submarine Destroyer to Be New Engine of Destruction

New Type of Dual Under-Water and Surface Craft Being Constructed; United States Will Have Similar Ships; Electricity to Propel Battleships

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Out of the newly-bought lessons of naval warfare in the North sea, a new engine of destruction is coming—the submarine destroyer. Larger, more powerful, and with a greater radius of operations than any of its predecessors, this new weapon of the sea will not only be equipped to sink its giant adversaries but to destroy its own kind on the surface of the sea.

British and French navy yards, and private shipyards as well, are working night and day to have the new submarine destroyers in service within the next few months. This information coming to United States naval officers commands greater interest because the United States navy, too, is to have some of these newest ships of war. Its experts have been at work upon plans for them for months.

The theory in which the new destroyers are being built is that they shall be armed for battle either on the surface or below. They will be of much greater tonnage than existing submarines. Tentative plans have been made for boats of 1,000 tons, submerged, which would permit fuel capacity and allow adequate provision for crew quarters. The close attendance of a parent ship upon submarine fleets would then be unnecessary.

Will Be Versatile Craft.
The underwater armament will consist of torpedo tubes as in present submarines, but more tubes and a greater supply of the projectiles employed with such terrible effect in the European war. For surface fighting against hostile submarines they will carry small guns, mounted in water-tight compartments and placed on elevators to lift them to the upper deck of the ship as she rides a foot or two out of the water. A quick-fire six-pounder probably will be the largest weapon that can be employed for that purpose because of greater weight, set high above the vessel's center of gravity, would tend to render her top-heavy.

Beneath the surface the new destroyers would operate on ordinary 200-ton vessels of their type, except that they would have greater cruising range. On the surface they would scout for hostile submarines, spotting an enemy's periscope, then sinking up the six-pounder to open fire, relying on greater speed to keep in range and upon the fact that six-pounder projectiles would easily pierce the thin skin of the hostile craft. One shell would cripple an enemy even if no vital part of his mechanism were struck. The puncture would sink him if he attempted to submerge and so he would be compelled to be on the surface at the mercy of the destroyer's guns.

U. S. Type Similar.
The equipment of the new British fighters is understood to be similar to that contemplated for American craft. Diesel engine oil engines driving the propellers for surface cruising and operating dynamos which keep storage batteries constantly at standard strength for underwater work when the ship is driven by electricity. The German engine, now to be employed against its inventors, offers the highest fuel economy in power generation yet achieved and on its small fuel consumption demands the greatly-increased cruising radius of the new ships.

American naval engineers are considering the application of Diesel engines to warships in another connection also. The result may be the complete revolution of the power equipment of the coming super-dreadnaughts. Hydroplanes have been made successfully with the new oilier Jupiter, in getting greater efficiency out of steam turbines, by using them to drive dynamos and use electricity to drive propellers to propel the ship. The theory is that by operating the turbines at higher speed than is possible in applying their power directly to the propellers, added power is generated per unit of weight, which more than offsets losses through changing steam power into electrical energy.

Electrically Propelled.
When the plans for the great battleships provided in this year's estimate were sent out to builders, the New York

navy yard submitted proposals for one ship to be driven by electricity, and the navy general board has the project under consideration. It is not necessary for a decision to be reached for a year, it is said, as it will take that time to construct the hulls up to the point where installation of engines will be decided on.

In the meantime the board has before it a new proposal, which contemplates the substitution of Diesel engines for steam turbines to drive the electric generators. That it is said, would virtually double the cruising radius of the ship per gallon of fuel oil carried. The board is giving it serious consideration, although no announcement of what experiments and tests have been undertaken has been made.

TEUTON ALLIES ARE FIGHTING TOGETHER TO GOOD ADVANTAGE

BERLIN, Nov. 26 (by wireless to London).—The Austrian report that ground has been gained in the district about Wollorn (southern Russian Poland) taken in conjunction with the German report from Zepetochowa and the region north of Cracow, shows that they are working together on the south wing to very good purpose," says a semi-official statement today. "Wollorn is in a mountainous region but successes have been gained despite the great difficulties."

"In the eastern theater of war the weather generally is clear but frosty, the temperature averaging 10 degrees (centigrade) below zero. At Cracow fog alternates with snow."

In Flanders the rain continues and the temperature is near the freezing point. A low temperature prevails in the Lorraine plateau. In the Vosges the craters of the mountains are covered with about six inches of snow."

TIFLIS, Nov. 26 (by wireless to London).—Information given out to the press today by the official press bureau includes the following:

"The Persian legation at Constantinople has received information from Tabriz that Kurdish troops surprised a Russian garrison and killed 2,000 of them."

A great mass meeting was held in Sofia to demand the immediate occupation of Macedonia by the Bulgarian army.

M. Walkow, president of the committee for the improvement of economic conditions in Russia, states that bankruptcy is epidemic in that country.

Reports of a pan-Islamic anti-British movement are confirmed by the Russian Slovo of Petrograd, which states that the movement had its beginning in Afghanistan. The paper states that all Arabs were fit for military service have declared their readiness for a holy war."

MIDNIGHT FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF ABOUT $1,200

Spontaneous combustion, thought to have been caused by oil rags, caused a fire at the Wood residence, 621 North Nevada avenue, shortly after midnight. The loss is estimated at $1,200. The building is a two-story frame structure and was empty. The blaze started in the rear of the house and worked its way along the passages and into the stairs.

It was extinguished by means of chemicals, two 40-gallon tanks of carbon dioxide and 2 being used. The fire was well started when the department was notified.

The fire was not due to electric wiring, according to Chief McCarthy, who made a thorough investigation. Paints and oil were found in the house and it is thought the blaze started from oily rags, several of which were found.

GERMAN ARMY IN TRENCHES IS VERY HUMAN INSTITUTION

Iron Spirit of Barracks Has Given Way to More Democratic Spirit

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The German army is a very human institution just now. The iron discipline of the barracks and the caste spirit which divides the officer from the rank and file are not so much in evidence.

In one of the better restaurants of Berlin sat two officers of the line. The iron look of the field-gray uniform of one showed that he had been in service. That the other had been at the front was made clear by a bandage over his head.

Following an animated meal, the officer in the worn uniform picked up a bundle which had lain beside him on the table and proceeded to unwrap six mouth bags.

"You see," he said to his convalescent companion, "life in the trenches is rather low. There are several men in my company who can play these things, and I am taking these back to them. A little music helps them pass the time and keeps them in good humor."

Divided With Captain.
"I gave my captain five boiled potatoes and the half of a salt herring the other day, and he told me he appreciated it," said a private when asked to explain to what extent life in the barracks resembled life on the firing line.

To the remark that hunger comes to all men, regardless of station in life, the private commented:

"That is so, of course. But the officer did not have to thank me for it." It would have served no purpose to argue this point with the man, so another question was asked: everybody must do his duty," replied the man, and then added slowly and with emphasis, "and that duty right now seems to be the same for all alike—everybody within his place of course. The officer is as likely to be shot as we are, and sometimes more so, and that, believe you me, things up considerably."

A sort of demerit of death," suggested the interviewer.

But the word "demerit" is in German principally associated with the "Social Democrats"—the German Socialist party. For that reason the private had nothing more to say.

GERMANS ARE LED INTO INEXTRICABLE TRAP

PETROGRAD, via London, Nov. 26.—Semi-official advice received from London show that the German defeat at Lodz, culminating in the capture of a German army corps, was the result of a Russian maneuver by which the Germans were led into an inextricable trap.

The Russian left wing, resting on the Rifer Waria, and the Russian wing on the Vistula, both lying west along the Warsaw-Kalisz river, moved forward in unison the last two days.

Simultaneously the Russian center gave ground and the Germans followed apparently relying upon a German column from Wlodek to repulse the Russian left wing and to form a juncture with the main German force.

The plan failed as a result of the battle on November 25, when the force from Wlodek was repulsed. Thereafter the Russian wings advanced and closed the gap through which the German center had passed.

In the meantime Russian reserves had come up and they surrounded the Germans, thousands of whom surrendered. Others fought their way north in an effort to join the German left wing in the vicinity of Lodz, a town 44 miles southwest of Warsaw.

"Swearing doesn't help to play the game," said the young minister on the golf links. "Besides, it's very wicked." "It may be very wicked, an' it may not help the playin', but it's a great aid to conversation," replied the sophisticated caddy.—Livingston lance.

Colorado City News

More than 200 people attended the Thanksgiving dinner and reception at the Standard club rooms yesterday from 12 to 3 o'clock. The dinner was served by the ladies of the First Methodist church. A reception was held from 3 to 5 o'clock by the members of the Colorado City Commercial club.

The regular weekly meeting of the Colorado City Commercial club will be held Tuesday evening, at which the winter debates will be inaugurated. The subject is, "Resolved, That the European war will stimulate prosperity in the United States." Speakers for the affirmative, P. G. Hamble and Attorney J. P. Jackson; speakers for the negative, Fred Kistler and B. A. Howard. The meeting will be open and all are invited.

The poor and sick of Colorado City celebrated Thanksgiving also, and about 40 families were given turkey dinners by the ladies of the Methodist church.

Societies and Clubs

Section 4 of the First M. E. church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. L. Dryden, 235 North Ingle street. Mrs. Kesson and Mrs. Knapp will assist in receiving.

CHRONIC COUGH

Made Well by Delicious Vinol

Crestline, Ohio.—I contracted a hard, chronic cough, and was weak, nervous and run down. I have a small family of three, and it was hard for me to do my work. I took different medicines without benefit. Finally I heard about Vinol, and it has restored me to health and strength. My cough is all gone and I feel fine.—Mrs. M. H. Carls.

ALL COLORADO SPRINGS FINDS CAUSE TO OFFER THANKS; 3,000 ATTEND CHURCHES

Fiftieth Anniversary of National Observance Is Celebrated Throughout Region

Thanksgiving day was the cause of rejoicing in all parts of the Pike's Peak region yesterday. More than 3,000 people attended the religious services in the rural districts of El Paso county and the three union meetings held in the morning. In the afternoon a crowd of about 5,000 spectators watched the football game between Colorado college and the School of Mines at Vashburn field, which resulted in a 7-0 tie.

The weather man was in a good humor and the day was ideal. Early in the morning 14 automobiles, carrying about 75 Colorado Springs people, members of the Pike's Peak Ministerial association and their assistants, left for the country. Services were conducted at 26 different points and it was estimated last night by County Agriculturalist W. H. Lauck, who received reports from 22 of the meetings, that more than 1,200 people attended. The total number of miles traveled by the cars was 1,000. Automobiles were loaned by the Rev. T. H. Spencer, P. E. Kohler, W. W. Curtis, G. W. Rinker, Dr. Sullivan, W. A. Johnson, the Rev. Mr. Sledge, Funttman, William Honeyman, J. B. Fowler, Brinton Jeffers, Willis Armstrong, O. W. Ward and Mr. McClain.

Dinners for Poor and Sick.

The poor and sick of the city were taken care of by the Associated Charities, the Peoples mission, Salvation army and other charitable institutions. The union Thanksgiving meetings were held at the First Methodist, the Second Presbyterian and St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal churches. They were conducted by the Rev. Robert L. Wolfe, F. C. Holbrook and G. H. Stuntz, respectively.

Liberal offerings were taken at the country meetings to be divided between the Associated Charities and the Sunnycrest sanatorium.

The union service at St. Stephens church was largely attended and a special musical program was given by the choir. The Thanksgiving sermon was preached by the Rev. Robert L. Wolfe, who took for his text St. John 4:46, "With me made the water wine." The general theme of the sermon was "A Detail in Divine Credence." Dr. Wolfe said in part:

There is a way of looking at this incident as insignificant, trivial and altogether unworthy the serious service Jesus came into the world to perform. The world was awaiting great things had awaited them thousands of years, and he who had come to fulfill the desire of the nations begins his ministry with apparent frivolity, not only wasting his time at an inconsequential social function, but makes the exhibition of his supernatural power in contributing to the unnecessary feast.

Girls' Club Holds Clothing Exhibit

An exhibition of garments for Belgian war sufferers will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Girls' club, corner of South Nevada avenue and Mill street. Two hundred yards of material, furnished by Mrs. W. K. Jewett, have been made into petticoats and mufflers for Belgian women and men by the members of the club, who have been working for several days. The articles of clothing will be displayed later at Bemis hall, and will be sent to New York with the second relief shipment December 2. There are about 40 members in the society.

Miss Spicer Back From Battlefields

After escaping from Paris when the Germans were within 40 miles of that city, Miss Mabel Spicer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Spicer, has returned to Colorado Springs and is at the home of her parents on North Weber street. Miss Spicer has been traveling in Europe for the last five years and was in France when war was declared. Acting through the advice of Ambassador Herrick she left Paris when a siege seemed imminent.

Miss Spicer has been traveling in the interests of the Paris and Belgian relief societies for the last two months. Her plans now are indefinite. The National Geographic magazine has accepted a series of five articles by Miss Spicer, the publication of which probably will be delayed on account of the European war.

COUNTY AND CITY JAILS SERVE TURKEY DINNERS

Sheriff Serves Feast for 40 "Guests." While City Serves Meat to Four Prisoners

Thanksgiving was celebrated in every nook and corner of the Pike's Peak region yesterday, and even the inmates of the county and city jails found cause for rejoicing. Promptly at 12 o'clock they were summoned to a turkey dinner by their respective hosts, and for a solid hour they feasted on stuffed turkeys, cranberries, celery, candy, pumpkin pie and all the specialties that are needed to make a real Thanksgiving dinner. Sheriff Birdsell's guests, 40 of them, all said that there was no kick coming, and admitted they couldn't eat another mouthful. The four visitors in the city jail simply acknowledged they were glad they were there.

At the county poor farm, also, Thanksgiving was made a holiday for the 46 men and women at the institution. A turkey dinner was served at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, together with all the usual dishes that go to make up the turkey-day feast. The candy, pies, fruit and vegetables were given by Mrs. Harry B. Kobermeier, who makes a visit to the county jail and poor farm on Thanksgiving and Christmas.

'HOMELESS' YOUNG MEN ARE Y. M. C. A. GUESTS

Fourteen States and Two Foreign Countries Represented at Annual Thanksgiving Dinner

Fourteen states and two foreign countries were represented at the dinner given at the Y. M. C. A. for young men who are away from home. There were 56 guests. E. B. Simmons was toastmaster and the program included musical selections by the association orchestra; prayer, song by the company, address on Thanksgiving by the Rev. Samuel Garvin, pastor of the Young Business Men, by C. W. Daniels; responses by the guests, closing prayer; and a solo by Adolf Kundtz. A social hour followed the dinner.

Turkey and Stuffin' for All Newbies at Silver Grill Cafe

There were 46 of them, all seated at a long table and all as happy as larks. Every legitimate "newbie" in Colorado Springs, from Oakley Worth, who is one of the smallest of the paper vendors, to Fred Hartman, who has sold so many Gazettes that he can't count them, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Davis at the Silver Grill cafe last night.

The cause of rejoicing was a big Thanksgiving dinner, and every one of the boys declared that they had starved themselves all day to do full justice to the banquet.

"Turkey? Sure, there was turkey, and cranberries and pies and fruit—and everything else you can think of. Then came the speeches. Aubrey Schlessinger, a Gazette carrier, arose, not without difficulty, for he was heavier than several pounds, and thanked Mr. Davis in behalf of all his companions. "We'll be boosters for the Silver Grill for the rest of our lives," he declared, and a murmur from the rest signified their approval. "We thank Mr. Davis," he went on, stumbling a little, "and—and we never had such a feast before," was his triumphant conclusion. Fred Hartman was also one of the speakers.

FARMERS INTERESTED IN COYOTE HUNT TUESDAY

Reports from the rural districts show that a great deal of interest is being taken by the farmers in the coyote drive, which will be held Tuesday near the Tins, ranch. Two large coyotes were seen yesterday by County Agriculturalist W. H. Lauck, who shot the biggest of his automobile. Tod Powell, of the Colorado Springs delegation is making preparations to take a big local crowd. Two things are prohibited on the drive by request—liquor, on account of the danger from accidents, and high-powered rifles.

MISS FRANCES LUCAS BRIDE OF O. B. COHUN

Miss Frances Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Lucas, and O. B. Cohun, both of this city, were married yesterday. The Rev. Merle N. Smith conducted the services. Mr. and Mrs. Cohun went to Denver, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mr. Cohun is bookkeeper for Vollick Brothers.

GERMANS HAVE NO RESPECT FOR THE MONROE DOCTRINE

Writers Discuss Colonization in the Western Hemisphere

By T. P. O'CONNOR

To the Chicago Tribune.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—One of the curious results of the war has been in London the extraordinary sale of the leading German books on war and on the relations between Germany and England. Publishers who had translations of some of these books, including Bernhard's classic, on their shelves for some years were delighted to find that as soon as the war broke out these books began to sell by the hundred thousand.

The publishers were wise enough to bring these volumes out at a cheap price, with the result that wherever you travel you are sure to find several people with their noses stuck into a volume of Bernhard or Heyerdal's "Jens or Jodan." One wit summed up the transformation by saying that you now heard even Nietzsche discarded by dressmakers in the street cars.

Words of Walterhausen.

The cables have sent us some accounts of the pronouncements of the German ambassador to the United States and Herr Dernberg with regard to the attitude of Germany to the Monroe doctrine. When I saw the statements I looked up some of my now large pan-German library, and I came across some passages which did not seem to me to be quite in accord with the statements made by these distinguished gentlemen.

Thus, for instance, in 1898 I find that a German writer named Walterhausen wrote longingly of the acquisition of a port for Germany in the West Indies which belongs to the Danes. He pointed out that Denmark would probably be desirous of getting rid of these islands, as they cost it $150,000 a year, and he goes on to say:

"Should German diplomacy at Copenhagen prove able to overcome the anti-German resistance of the Danes, now (1898) is the time for us to acquire the islands. The United States is involved with Spain, and has no money to spare."

Remarks of Dix.

Some years later, Dix, another German writer, returned to the subject, and declared: "That which is valuable to a country like Denmark may be of very considerable value to a world power, particularly if the island gives a footing in a region which gains essentially in importance from the future isthmian canal."

This writer disavows any claims of America by the statement that "for the moment the Americans have enough on their hands with Cuba and Porto Rico, but it would be exceedingly disagreeable to them if the Danish

Strawberries Grow in Springs Garden

Fresh, ripe strawberries, grown in Colorado Springs, and ready to ship for Thanksgiving. An unusual combination. November berries and the Pike's Peak region—only one with Mrs. Emily Dietrich of 311 North Weber street, are available. Late yesterday afternoon, to prove that this was no magician's trick, Mrs. Dietrich brought several bunches of them to The Gazette office. They were real strawberries, grown in the garden at the Dietrich home.

NO VESPER SUNDAY. On account of the Thanksgiving recess at Colorado college this week the usual vesper service Sunday afternoon will not be held. The service will be resumed the following Sunday.

ELY'S CREAM BALM OPENS CLOGGED NOSTRILS AND HEAD—CATARRH GOES

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely, Nasty Discharge Stops, Head Colds and Dull Headache Vanish

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; and headache and catarrh disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head, catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm.

at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharge and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately. Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, food and mucus dripping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless. Put your faith—just once—in Ely's Cream Balm and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear. Adv.

PIED DEMONS MAKE 100 MILES AN HOUR; PULLEN WINS RACE

Artistic Speed Pulverizes Road Surface; Six Finish Out of 19 Started

CORONA Cal. Nov. 26.—Covering 8 miles at the rate of 87 miles an hour, Eddie Pullen won the annual road race today and established a new speed record. Eddie (Donnell), a new entrant, was second and Arnes Oldfield was third. Times were: Pullen, 3:26.32; (Donnell), 3:29.18; Oldfield, 3:29.58. Departing, fourth, 3:31.63.

Pullen established his high average speed many times at the 11th and 12th mile. He frequently tore over the 276-mile course at a rate of nearly 100 miles an hour. Oldfield was the only one who did not have to stop at least once. His car was one of the fastest in the contest.

The race was in doubt until the last lap. Pullen finished only two minutes ahead of O'Donnell, who overtook him from the rear toward the end of Oldfield's little out flashed in but second behind O'Donnell. Until the last few laps Earl Cooper, the winner of two Corona races and one Santa Anita contest was frequently in the lead. But his car could not stand the strain of a pace always in excess of 85 miles an hour.

LANGFORD KNOCKS OUT WILLS IN 14TH IN SCHEDULED 20-ROUND BOUT AT LOS ANGELES

Murray Puts Sailor Petroskey to Sleep in the Second Round; Levinsky-McCarthy Draw

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—Sam Langford of Boston knocked out Harry Wills of New Orleans in the fourteenth round of what was to have been a 20-round affair at Vernon arena here today. A left swing to the jaw half way through the round turned the trick.

Langford in the two opening rounds hurt his left ankle as he fell to the mat in a vicious breakaway. Twice in each of three rounds Langford took the benefit of the count of nine.

Wills' effective straight arm drives gave him an apparent even break in most of the rounds.

Langford fought with an alert swiftness and a superior knowledge of the game that gradually wore out Wills.

As the sorcerer wore out of Langford's injured ankle he left pace with the shifty Wills in the last rounds.

The twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth rounds showed Langford winning. His speed judgment and blinding force allowed him to play with Wills. The final blow was cleanly delivered after a torrent of head hooks and drives made Wills groggy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Tom McCarthy of Lewistown, Mont., fought a hard and fast 10-round draw with Battling Levinsky, a local heavy weight in Brooklyn today. McCarthy weighed 180 pounds and Levinsky, scaled five pounds less.

McCarthy proved to be a fast, willing two-handed fighter and he was on the aggressive nearly all the time. Levinsky's endurance and clever blocking saved him from punishment but McCarthy had the better of the first three rounds.

The fourth was Levinsky's on clever hitting, but McCarthy shaded him in the two following rounds. Levinsky hooked left to the face and it close quarters punished McCarthy on the body during the last four rounds while McCarthy's jab drew blood from Levinsky's nose and mouth in the seventh. It was the fastest bout between two men seen here in several months and McCarthy appeared to better advantage than in either of his previous bouts here.

At another Brooklyn club Soldier Hanfield, a local welterweight, held Jack Britton of Chicago to a 10-round draw. Tom Gibbons of St. Paul stopped Billy Glover of Boston in six rounds at a Bronx club.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Fighting Billy Murray knocked out Sailor Ed Petroskey here today in the second round of what was to have been a 21-round bout.

The result was a complete surprise, for Petroskey is one of the most durable middleweights in his division and was never knocked out before except by George Child, who in turn has two knockouts to his credit against Murray. Petroskey was knocked down for the count of nine in the first round.

THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER

Colonel Mack may find it more a bit easier to get rid of Bender Plank and Combs than to pick up three of the same mold upon brief notice. The three together cost him less than $60, and no greater three on one could have ever gone pounding along the corridors of baseball (time). For an average span of 10 years' service they have won over 70 per cent of their starts, which is likely to stand as a record in long as baseballs are pitched up in the general direction of the plate.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Z. Z. Hagerman, star pitcher of the Cleveland league ball club, today signed a three-year contract with the Chicago Federal league club, a move to end an indictment by Charles Weckman, president of the club. The terms were not made public.

Hagerman had been disciplined by Cleveland, he said, when informed that Federal league would have been sent talking with the pitcher.

Birmingham asked me to sign a two-year contract and Hagerman, and I refused. I immediately became the warm-up pitcher. I pitched to the batters and when a pitcher got in trouble I was rushed to the side lines to warm up to relieve him. If I'd gone back to Cleveland I'd soon have been sent to Portland.

Hagerman, formerly pitched for Portland Ore., and at one time for the Chicago Nationals.

MAON, Ga. Nov. 26.—George Stallings, manager of the Boston Nationals, world champions, announced here today that Marion had been chosen as the 1915 training camp for his team. He said the players could reach here the latter part of February.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Terrific plunges by Fullback Eichenlaub into the heavy Syracuse line of forwards and frequent fumbles by the Orange, enabled Notre Dame to defeat Syracuse by a score of 20 to 0.

WORLD'S SERIES TO BE ELEVEN GAMES

May Cut Prices for Seats; Players to Share in Five Games

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The baseball series for the championship of the world will consist of 11 games next year, instead of seven and prices will be lowered according to B. B. Johnson, president of the American league, when he made public tonight a letter he had received from August Herrmann, chairman of the national baseball commission.

The question of cutting prices for the world's series was considered at a recent meeting of the American league here and after tentative agreement was reached Johnson submitted the proposal of a national league club owner.

Herrmann's letter said the National league had agreed to the change and that a plan would be worked out and adopted at the annual meeting in January.

Some of the club owners he said had objected to cutting the prices on the ground that it would decrease the amount given the players. According to the proposed change the players will share in the first five instead of four games, so their total will not be decreased.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26.—Chairman August Herrmann of the national baseball commission denied emphatically here tonight that he had ever written to President Dan Johnson of the American league advocating that the number of games in the world's series be changed from seven to 11 and the prices reduced.

When asked if he personally advocated such a plan he said: "I have never given the matter enough thought to answer that question."

MR. AND MRS. TALBOT SMITH-HANAN OF NEW YORK
A millionaire in his own right, Talbot Smith-Hanan, son of Mrs. John H. Hanan, has obtained a job in the establishment of an interior decorator, and is now working eight hours a day for $15 a week so that his heir, expected to arrive in January or February, might not have an idle father. Young Mr. Smith-Hanan, who is but 21 years old, married Miss Amelia Perkins of Boston last January.

THE MISSIONARY AND HIS MOTORCYCLE

A Dime Novel, Moving Picture Story

When a man's daily work calls him up and down a mining country, anywhere from 15 miles in one direction to 20 miles in the other, the question of how he's going to get to it becomes a serious one. The head of the American board's activities in and around Johannesburg, South Africa, is Dr. J. H. Bridgman, who though born in America, of missionary parents, and an American citizen, has been obliged to make him a "motorist".

Mr. Bridgman's "motorist" takes in Johannesburg and Pretoria, the Transvaal road about there, the Premier Diamond mine with its thousands of native workers, and nine compounds and locations from Randfontein on the west to Springs on the east of Johannesburg itself. Although motorcycles are not included in the usual missionary's equipment and the African motorcycle seems to be a particularly deadly variety, judging by the number of accidents reported, Mr. Bridgman went ahead and secured one, trusting to his friends at home for the price and to the greatness of his need for safety. All went well for a time, when between two days the cycle disappeared. Much search proved unavailing, and Mr. Bridgman's friends having been heard from, he got another machine and started all over again. Now for the sequel. A letter, just in, says:

"The past few days have been times of tragedy such as even the lurid records of Johannesburg have not hitherto seen. In these events my stolen motorcycle has figured prominently and finally led to the tracing of the gang of highwaymen and their destruction."

"A recapitulation: About a year ago Cape Town witnessed a most daring robbery of a large jewelry shop. The thieves invaded the place at lock-up time in the evening, bound, gagged and blindfolded the men in charge, robbed the store, left it locked with its helpless inmates, and escaped in a motor car. Two of the robbers were traced, caught and sentenced to 12 years, which time they were serving in Pretoria prison, at four and a half by train time from Johannesburg."

"There was a sensation, when it became known a few months since that these men had escaped from prison. This was but a few weeks before I lost my machine. In searching for my motor in Pretoria I learned that Foster and his pal had stolen there the same make of machine as my own to facilitate their flight. Then I found that Foster's home was only a few blocks from our house, his wife was still living there, and he was said to turn up there at times."

"Since that time there have been three or four bank and postoffice robberies along the Rand. Then a week ago Sunday morning two stores were broken open, one on either side of our house. In making their escape the robbers killed two police and seriously wounded another. As in the case of one of the bank robberies where they killed a man, the bandits again escaped on a motorcycle."

"When the pictures of these men were again published in the papers, a motor mechanic recognized one face as that of a man who had recently brought in a motor for repair. This led to locating their hide-out. In a foolhardy attack on this house another policeman was killed, the robbers escaping in a stolen motor car. The police were at once armed with rifles and all roads about here were guarded. And so it was that General Delany and a doctor, who refused to halt their cars, were shot dead."

"Next day the bandits were literally run to earth in a cave, an old mine cutting, a few minutes from our house. After 24 hours' siege the three robbers, in their own brains out. Foster having first killed his wife, who was permitted to enter the cave."

"The next day I had no trouble in finding my lost 'cycle', notwithstanding its changed paint, etc. It is still held by the authorities as a witness in the judicial inquiry now being held. While my insurance did not cover the theft, it did cover malicious damage, so the company has agreed to put the machine into practically as good condition as when I lost it. As for what I can get for it I can't say, but certainly enough to give a big lift on the way to still owing for it. I'm most thankful to recover the machine, but also thankful I was not disturbed the night it was stolen for I would certainly

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

SAYS INDIGESTION RESULTS FROM AN EXCESS OF HYDRO-CHLORIC ACID.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fumes and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, hungry, uneasy in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulency, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink white as an after-dinner and further, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver to stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is free from the acid of oranges and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results. Add.

THE AMERICAN BOARD'S NEW PRESIDENT

A great question is to be decided at the annual meeting of the American Board in Detroit this year: who should be chosen president to succeed the late Dr. S. R. Capen, of Boston, whose death occurred in Shanghai last winter, as he was making a tour of the board's work in the Orient. Dr. Capen, who was a member of the firm of Torrey, Bright and Capen, carpet merchants, had been president of the board for nearly fifteen years, his administration having been notable for its emphasis on the layman's share in mission work. As his successor the Detroit meeting elected Dr. Edward C. Moore, Parkman Professor of Theology at Harvard.

Professor Moore's leadership will be that of a missionary, student and expert who has yet had much practical experience in serving for a number of years as chairman of the board's prudential committee and in twice visiting the mission fields. Dr. Moore was chairman of a deputation which visited the China missions, some years ago, and he has made especially careful studies of that land. His monograph on "The Naturalization of Christianity in the Far East" is recognized both in Europe and America as a classic on its subject. Missionaries at home on furlough find in Dr. Moore a warm friend and for the Chinese students in Harvard, Professor Moore has a special class in the theology which meets in his own home.

FOREST NOTES

The propellers of aeroplanes such as are used in the present European war may be made of selected ash which is both strong and light and will not split under vibration or shock, or of built-up layers of spruce with mahogany centers. The framework of the machines, too, is generally made of wood, spruce being much used on account of its straight grain and freedom from hidden defects.

A surprisingly large number of antibodies, ranging all the way from the most common to the most rare, have been found in the serum of patients with rheumatism, and it is suggested as a means of preserving wood from decay. Most of them, however, have been found to have little or no value for the purpose. Certain forms of coal-tar creosote and zinc chloride are the most widely used wood preservatives.
